REVELATION: THE NEW ASTROLOGY

INTRODUCTION

"I can't help it. I'm an Aries. Of COURSE I have a temper." "The Moon was in Taurus. It triggered my sweet tooth. I HAD to have dessert." "Mars squared my ascendant, so of COURSE I got angry."

We've all made statements like these and, in essence, blamed the planets for our actions and the events in our lives. We look to the stars for guidance, praise them when we do well, and blame them when things don't go the way we'd like. Don't the stars affect our lives? Don't they influence us? The stars do not MAKE us do anything any more than seeing a great pair of shoes in a store window MAKES you run in and buy them, or passing a restaurant when you are hungry MAKES you rush inside and grab a meal. There is a synchronicity to the universe that puts you intuitively in tune with the world around you. Subconsciously, you give and receive messages that guide and direct you to your spoken or unspoken goal, thus creating those events and circumstances that fulfill your desires. You, then, are the Creator of your life. You created being at the restaurant when you were hungry so that you could eat. YOU were the cause, not the restaurant. Similarly, you created being in front of the store window in order to see the shoes. YOU were the Creator, not the shoes.

In the winter, the leaves fall from the trees. At the same time, we put on heavier clothing. The falling leaves do not MAKE us put on heavier clothing; the cold weather does. We and the trees are responding to the same cause---the change of seasons. As part of God's plan, we, and all of nature, are responding to the larger order of things. So, too, in astrology, the planets reflect what is occurring in our personal worlds and the lessons we are learning. They are not the lessons themselves, but the reflections thereof.

REVELATION: THE NEW ASTROLOGY is the implementation of the knowledge that you are the Creator of your life. As such, you are free to interpret each planet in your chart on its highest and best level, thereby being the highest and best manifestation of God you can be. YOU determine the level of functioning of your chart and the degree of happiness and success in your life. When you function on this level, your life takes on a richness of dimension it has not had before. You take the responsibility for creating your life the way you would like it to be. You see the planets as those gifts and talents you have chosen to express in this lifetime. You fulfill your limitless potential because you see what CAN be, rather than what cannot. The chart then becomes a guide, rather than the source of your happiness or unhappiness. It becomes a reflection of your own spiritual evolution. REVELATION: THE NEW ASTROLOGY is designed to assist you in that evolution. It is about love and appreciation of the God within, the acknowledgment of the Truth of who you are and, as a result, the beautiful expression of that Truth.

When you express the Truth of who you are by being your highest and best, you lift those around you and inspire THEM to be THEIR highest and best. They, in turn, inspire others, and so the Light is awakened in one person after another, spreading love, joy and peace across the face of the earth.

Saturn in 10th house:

You have an innate respect for authority and those who hold it. Others respect you and turn to you as a natural leader, treating you with dignity, and giving you responsibility. This is because you ARE a natural leader, possessing power and authority, and the ability to use these qualities.

URANUS

Uranus rules originality, innovation, and invention. Wherever it falls in your chart is that area of life in which you express your unique individuality.

Pluto in 8th house:

You are in tune with the psychic energies of the universe, and can use them to heal the planet. Your life is a series of all-or-nothing events which have taught you that you are the creator of your life. You have the power to help others transform their values and, thereby, improve their financial condition.

THE NORTH AND SOUTH NODES

The South Node, the Dragon's Tail, represents those qualities and abilities previously developed in past lives. The North Node, the Dragon's Head, represents those qualities and abilities to be further developed in this life. Combining both nodes balances their energies and creates a natural flow. Because they are 180 degrees apart, they teach us how to interact successfully with others and, therefore, affect all our relationships. Their house placements indicate those areas of life which can thrive as a result of their blending.

Nodes in 1st/7th houses:

You have the ability to create warm and loving relationships in which both parties get what they want without feeling they are giving anything up.

ASPECTS

Traditional astrology identifies certain aspects between planets as "positive", and others as "negative". Aspects between planets are simply contacts between them. When you are coming from limitlessness, when your chart is functioning on its highest and best level, your attitude is one of loving acceptance because you know that every situation is a reflection of where you are and what your next learning experience is. As a result, every aspect is positive. By accepting planetary aspects as positive learning experiences, they function that way in your life.

THE CHART RULER

The ruler of the sign on the ascendant is the "chart ruler." It is a key planet in the horoscope because the ascendant is the most personal point in the chart. Its sign, house placement and the aspects it makes to other planets explain how you express YOU. (Refer to chapters: Planets in Houses, Planets in Signs and Aspects.)

CHART RULER: JUPITER

You express generosity, optimism and freedom. You live your principles, the greatest of which is Truth.

ROVING DELEGATES

The signs on the house cusps are the principles to be learned; the cusp on which a sign falls tells us the area of life in which that particular principle will manifest. The planetary ruler, or "roving delegate" of that sign, acts as a messenger, bringing the energy from the house it rules to the house in which it is placed. For example, if Aries is on the 3rd cusp and Mars is in the 10th, the ruler of the 3rd is in the 10th. The energy flows from the 3rd to the 10th, linking the two. The same principle applies if Taurus is on the 3rd and Venus is in the 10th, or Cancer is on the 3rd and the Moon is in the 10th.

Ruler of 1st house in 6th:

You identify with work and service, and enjoy being busy. You thrive at tasks in which you feel needed and supportive.

Ruler of 2nd house in 7th:

Other people are influenced by your values. You share your resources and possessions with others.

Ruler of 3rd house in 10th:

You think in terms of leadership, authority and advancement. You express your ideas in your career. Your ideas can come to the attention of the public and can influence those in authority.

Ruler of 4th house in 11th:

Your need for emotional security is fulfilled by being a friend. You are nurturing of your friends and the groups to which you belong.

Ruler of 5th house in 2nd:

You can create money and possessions through your creative talents and abilities. You appreciate and are protective of what you create. You know that the way to create money is to do what you love to do.

Ruler of 6th house in 2nd:

Your work is one of your most valuable possessions. You profit through service projects.

Ruler of 7th house in 2nd:

The world is yours. As such, your resources are limitless. You reap blessings of a material nature through the public in general and your partner in particular.

Ruler of 8th house in 2nd:

As you continue to learn that the source of your abundance lies within, your values undergo a total transformation, resulting in a change in the way in which you earn your money. You are open to joint financial transactions, and others may want to pool their resources with yours.

Ruler of 9th house in 2nd:

By expanding your consciousness, your beliefs, you expand your values and priorities. This can increase your earning power.

Ruler of 10th house in 2nd:

The authority figures in your life can be supportive of your financial endeavors. Your career is your possession and provides you with financial blessings.

Ruler of 11th house in 8th:

A FINAL WORD

By putting your attention on the most positive manifestation of your chart you create love, joy and peace in your life. It's your life---live it!
