Introduction

Your Vedic Astrology Report consists of 4 sections: an interpretation of the Moon nakshatra and Moon sign, an analysis of yogas, a third section that describes various specific astrological influences in your chart, and an appendix of technical details. Fortunately, you do NOT need to be an astrologer or know what a "Moon nakshatra" is to read this report! If you are an astrologer or student of astrology, the astrological details are described as well, and you can easily skip over these technical astrological details if they do not interest you.

In this report there are quotations from the following books:

"Yogas In Astrology" by Dr. K S Charak, 1999, published by UMA Publications, 72 Gagan Vihat, Delhi-110 051, India

"Three Hundred Important Combinations" by B.V. Raman, 1997, published by Motilal Banarsidass Publishers Private Limited, Delhi, India

"Constellational Astrology" by Robert De Luce, 1963, De Luce

Publishing Company, Los Angeles, CA, USA

If you are interested in learning Vedic astrology, we highly recommend these 3 books. Only small sections that are relevant to a particular astrological influence have been quoted from these books. These works are based on the ancient Vedic writings (the Vedas) and have been elaborated upon and explained in terms that make sense for modern people. "Constellational Astrology" is no longer in print, but the other two books can be purchased.

Important: The interpretations in this report are based on the ancient system of Vedic astrology. Many of these interpretations are fatalistic and some are even extreme, frightening, and are now known to be not literally correct! You should interpret the influences described here in more psychological and general terms. Do not take the statements given in this report literally! The extreme and definite interpretations in this report should be viewed as indicating psychological tendencies rather than absolute facts. Also, modern astrologers believe that there is a negative and a positive potential in any astrological influence. Even the most difficult astrological influence can be handled successfully, and an astrological influence that might seem beneficial can be mishandled. Astrologers do claim to be able to describe the important issues and themes in your life, but what is good or bad is mostly up to you.

Section I: The Moons Nakshatras and Rasi

Nakshatras are also known as lunar mansions. There are 27 nakshatras, and each one has a length of 13 degrees and 20 minutes. The nakshatra position of the Moon is very important in Vedic astrology. Given below is the meaning of the Moon's nakshatra and Moon sign (rasi) in your chart.

Moon in 17th nakshatra:

The Moon is in Anuradha, the seventeenth nakshatra (3 deg 20 min to 16 deg 40 min of Scorpio). You love to travel and explore, and you may find it difficult to settle down in one place, or make long-term commitments. You have expensive tastes, appreciate items of high quality, and you are unwilling to go without the comforts that you are accustomed to, even for a short period of time.

Moon is in Scorpio rasi:

According to De Luce: "The native will have wide-apart eyes, a broad chest, rounded thighs and knees (one of wide influence); will be separated from his parents and preceptors (does not make educational progress); will be afflicted with disease when young (indolent); will be honored by the king's family (liked by those in high places). His complexion will be ruddy or dark (passionate or malevolent nature); he will not be straightforward; will have lines in his hands and feet the shape of fish and birds (signifying in Hindu palmistry that the early life is good, middle life moderate, later life evil); and will endeavor to conceal his sins (secretly does harm to others)."

Section II: Yogas

You may be familiar with the word "yoga" as referring to various physical exercises and postures. The word "yoga" has a very different meaning as used in astrology and does not refer to physical exercises. The word yoga literally means "combination". This section of your report describes important combinations of astrological influences that produce specific results.

Anapha Yoga

Anapha yoga occurs when any planet other than Sun is in the 12th house from the Moon.

According to Raman: "Well-formed organs, majestic appearance, good reputation, polite, generous, self-respect, fond of dress and sensual pleasures. In later life, renunciation and austerity." According to Charak: "One born in the Anapha yoga is a king, healthy, affable, renowned, an orator, capable, virtuous, given to varied material comforts, pleasant in looks and happy."

Anapha Yoga, with Saturn

In your chart when Saturn is in the 12th house from the Moon and the Sun not in the 2nd house from the Moon.

APPENDIX

Vedic astrology is an ancient system of astrological analysis practiced by many thousands of astrologers over the centuries. Vedic astrology, like modern western astrology, has not been validated scientifically, and you should think critically about the information provided to see if it appears to be accurate and relevant. No astrological information should be blindly believed in. Astrology simply lacks the scientific proof that established sciences have. On the other hand, many people have found astrology to be useful and helpful.
