REVELATION: THE NEW ASTROLOGY

INTRODUCTION

"I can't help it. I'm an Aries. Of COURSE I have a temper." "The Moon was in Taurus. It triggered my sweet tooth. I HAD to have dessert." "Mars squared my ascendant, so of COURSE I got angry."

We've all made statements like these and, in essence, blamed the planets for our actions and the events in our lives. We look to the stars for guidance, praise them when we do well, and blame them when things don't go the way we'd like. Don't the stars affect our lives? Don't they influence us? The stars do not MAKE us do anything any more than seeing a great pair of shoes in a store window MAKES you run in and buy them, or passing a restaurant when you are hungry MAKES you rush inside and grab a meal. There is a synchronicity to the universe that puts you intuitively in tune with the world around you. Subconsciously, you give and receive messages that guide and direct you to your spoken or unspoken goal, thus creating those events and circumstances that fulfill your desires. You, then, are the Creator of your life. You created being at the restaurant when you were hungry so that you could eat. YOU were the cause, not the restaurant. Similarly, you created being in front of the store window in order to see the shoes. YOU were the Creator, not the shoes.

In the winter, the leaves fall from the trees. At the same time, we put on heavier clothing. The falling leaves do not MAKE us put on heavier clothing; the cold weather does. We and the trees are responding to the same cause---the change of seasons. As part of God's plan, we, and all of nature, are responding to the larger order of things. So, too, in astrology, the planets reflect what is occurring in our personal worlds and the lessons we are learning. They are not the lessons themselves, but the reflections thereof.

REVELATION: THE NEW ASTROLOGY is the implementation of the knowledge that you are the Creator of your life. As such, you are free to interpret each planet in your chart on its highest and best level, thereby being the highest and best manifestation of God you can be. YOU determine the level of functioning of your chart and the degree of happiness and success in your life. When you function on this level, your life takes on a richness of dimension it has not had before. You take the responsibility for creating your life the way you would like it to be.

You see the planets as those gifts and talents you have chosen to express in this lifetime. You fulfill your limitless potential because you see what CAN be, rather than what cannot. The chart then becomes a guide, rather than the source of your happiness or unhappiness. It becomes a reflection of your own spiritual evolution.

REVELATION: THE NEW ASTROLOGY is designed to assist you in that evolution. It is about love and appreciation of the God within, the acknowledgment of the Truth of who you are and, as a result, the beautiful expression of that Truth.

When you express the Truth of who you are by being your highest and best, you lift those around you and inspire THEM to be THEIR highest and best. They, in turn, inspire others, and so the Light is awakened in one person after another, spreading love, joy and peace across the face of the earth.

YOUR GIFTS, TALENTS AND ABILITIES PLANETS IN HOUSES

THE SUN

The Sun represents your greatest power and creativity in this lifetime. Its house placement indicates that area of life in which you are free to express this power and creativity--that area of life in which your Light shines most brightly.

Sun in 9th house:

Life to you is one adventure after another, as you stretch, reach and expand your horizons. You live according to your principles, the greatest of which is that God is the central creative force of the universe. You help others develop their principles by living your own.

THE MOON

The Moon represents your sensitivity and feeling nature. Its house placement indicates that area of life in which you previously sought emotional security and are now more intuitively awakened and responsive.

Moon in 11th house:

You are a natural humanitarian and friend. You are in tune with and support the needs of the group. This encourages the group to support itself, which creates a feeling of security and belonging. You protect without protecting, support without possessing, and unify without controlling.

MERCURY

Mercury rules the conscious mind and communication. Wherever it is placed in the chart is the area of life about which you think and talk the most.

Mercury in 10th house:

You think in terms of authority, responsibility and leadership. When you speak, others listen, whether the man on the street or the president of the company.

VENUS

Venus represents the principles of love, beauty, art and sociability. Wherever it is placed in your chart is that area of life where you most easily express love and beauty.

Venus in 11th house:

You love your friends. They feel your love and return it. You see everyone as a friend, so you spread love everywhere you go.

MARS

Mars rules passion and energy. Wherever it is placed in your chart is the area of life that comes first to you, the area into which you throw yourself and your energies, the area about which you feel passionately.

Mars in 2nd house:

You throw yourself into making money --- and spending it. You feel deeply about your priorities, values and possessions, and ardently take a stand for what is yours.

JUPITER

Jupiter represents the principles in which you believe, and rules expansion, abundance, truth, generosity and optimism. Its house placement indicates that area of life in which you are blessed, and in which you believe most strongly.

Jupiter in 12th house:

Your faith is enormous. You know that you are blessed and protected, and that things always work out perfectly. Serving and doing God's work quietly and privately fulfills you. As a result, there is a feeling of joy that you bring to any project you undertake. Your greatest happiness comes in those moments of solitude when you can lose yourself in union with God.

SATURN

Saturn rules responsibility, authority, strength and power. Wherever it falls in your chart is the area of life where you take charge, assume your responsibilities and express your greatest strength.

Saturn in 8th house:

You can help others to take their money seriously, and get their priorities and values in order. You are a practical psychic---you take the mystery out of metaphysics by putting your insights into practical application in life. You uncover the unknown and take the fear out of it.

URANUS

Uranus rules originality, innovation, and invention. Wherever it falls in your chart is that area of life in which you express your unique individuality.

Uranus in 12th house:

Your psychic energies are strong and you are intuitively led. There is a supercharged energy about you---an adventure ready to happen, a quantum leap ready to be made--that others sense rather than see. This energy is exciting and contagious and, without their knowing it, inspires others to break free of subconscious limitations.

NEPTUNE

Neptune represents spirituality, faith, and divine inspiration. Its house placement indicates that area of life in which you seek to fulfill your most beautiful dreams, and where you are inspired to selflessly serve.

Neptune in 5th house:

You have great faith in children. They inspire you and bring out your kindness and generosity. Your creative energies flow naturally, and you happily express them. You inspire others to enjoy every moment of their lives.

PLUTO

Pluto represents total transmutation, the death of the lower nature and subsequent emergence of the reborn God within. Wherever it falls in your chart is that area of life in which you have been transformed, where you are empowered and completely in command.

Pluto in 3rd house:

Your thinking has undergone a total change. As a result, you see to the heart of things---and understand how to turn them around. Your words are very powerful and speak to people both consciously and subconsciously.

THE NORTH AND SOUTH NODES

The South Node, the Dragon's Tail, represents those qualities and abilities previously developed in past lives.

The North Node, the Dragon's Head, represents those qualities and abilities to be further developed in this life.

Combining both nodes balances their energies and creates a natural flow. Because they are 180 degrees apart, they teach us how to interact successfully with others and, therefore, affect all our relationships. Their house placements indicate those areas of life which can thrive as a result of their blending.

Nodes in 1st/7th houses:

You have the ability to create warm and loving relationships in which both parties get what they want without feeling they are giving anything up.

PLANETS IN SIGNS

By seeing the positive manifestation of the planets in the signs, you are able to express your highest and best.

Sun in Capricorn:

Your dignity, self-respect and traditional approach to life make you a natural leader. Authority and responsibility come naturally to you.

Moon in Pisces:

You are sensitive to subtle nuances, and respond beautifully to music and art. You feel most comfortable when you are giving of yourself.

Mercury in Aquarius:

You see what's best for the whole and come up with new ways of accomplishing things which combine the traditional with the non-traditional.

Venus in Pisces:

Your love nature is soft, tender and romantic. You willingly do anything for the one you love.

Mars in Gemini:

You thrive on variety and are able to do several things simultaneously.

Jupiter in Taurus:

You are generous with your belongings.

Saturn in Sagittarius:

You assume your responsibility to live according to your principles and be loyal to the truth.

Uranus in Aries:

You are inventive and pioneering---and always your own person.

Neptune in Virgo:

You want to be needed so that you can serve. Your dream is to lose yourself in God's work.

Pluto in Cancer:

Your emotional attitude toward home and family has undergone a total change. As a result, you are free from emotional restrictions.

THE NODES IN THE SIGNS

The North and South Nodes teach us the same lessons in the signs as they do in the houses.

Nodes in Taurus/Scorpio:

You have the ability to create a financial flow that is successful for both you and the people with whom you interact. The sharing and acceptance of one another's values and priorities contribute to your mutual financial success.

ASPECTS

Traditional astrology identifies certain aspects between planets as "positive", and others as "negative". Aspects between planets are simply contacts between them. When you are coming from limitlessness, when your chart is functioning on its highest and best level, your attitude is one of loving acceptance because you know that every situation is a reflection of where you are and what your next learning experience is. As a result, every aspect is positive. By accepting planetary aspects as positive learning experiences, they function that way in your life.

Sun - Moon aspects:

You have the ability/opportunity to harmonize and balance the masculine and feminine sides of your nature, the inner and outer you, the individuality and personality. When this occurs, interpersonal relationships flow smoothly, your physical health is good, and life is harmonious.

Sun - Jupiter aspects:

You are generous, confident and optimistic. You bring joy and laughter to others. Your philosophy is positive--you know you are protected and that everything always works out for the best. Your finances reflect the abundance in which you believe.

Sun - Pluto aspects:

You have great personal magnetism and charisma. You have the power to transform negative conditions and situations into positive ones. You, yourself, undergo a resurrection in this lifetime.

Sun - MC aspects:

You are a powerful, confident leader, and interact well with authority figures.

Moon - Venus aspects:

You are a loving person. This draws people to you---they want to be in the presence of your love. You have a charm and beauty that make you desirable. You have an appreciation of harmony, music and beauty.

Moon - Mars aspects:

You act quickly, fearlessly, and directly. You love being in motion and instinctively go for the goal line.

Moon - Saturn aspects:

You are instinctively drawn to positions of authority, and know how to lead. You assume your responsibilities and keep your commitments and promises.

Moon - Pluto aspects:

Your psychic and healing energies are very strong. You feel things deeply and are a natural detective. You are powerful and can lift the energies in a room with your presence.

Moon - Asc. aspects:

You are sensitive, compassionate and intuitive. You feel the currents around you and are in tune with your surroundings.

Mercury - Asc. aspects:

You are a natural communicator, able to speak freely about yourself. This enables others to feel comfortable about talking about themselves.

Venus - Neptune aspects:

You are spiritual, romantic and artistic. You are inspired by love, and happily serve the object of your affection. You fulfill your dream of divine love by serving God in all that you do.

Venus - Pluto aspects:

Your love nature is powerful and intense. You are magnetic and can attract deep, meaningful love relationships. When you give your heart, you give it completely.

Venus - Asc. aspects:

You are charming, lovely and will always possess a certain beauty.

Mars - Saturn aspects:

You are ambitious and willing to work hard to get to the top. Your courage and responsibility contribute to your leadership skills.

Jupiter - Saturn aspects:

You are practical, judicial, and able to combine God's law with man's law. You are honest and hard-working.

Jupiter - Neptune aspects:

You are kind, generous and compassionate. You are inspired to serve God by serving mankind.

Jupiter - MC aspects:

You are a popular, generous authority figure. You are confident about your ability to lead.

Saturn - Uranus aspects:

You are a humanitarian and interact beautifully with old and young, traditional and non-traditional, acting as a link between the two.

Saturn - Neptune aspects:

You want to serve in a useful manner. You are the dreamer who can put his dreams into practical application for the betterment of mankind.

Uranus - MC aspects:

You are innovative in leadership and believe in the good of the whole.

Pluto - Asc. aspects:

You are powerful, magnetic, and can bring about change wherever you go.

THE ASCENDANT

The ascendant is the most personal point in the chart. The sign on the ascendant gives a powerful description of you. By knowing its most positive qualities, you may use your ascendant on its highest and best level.

Ascendant in Taurus:

You are loyal to your friends and loved ones. You are relaxed, gentle, and able to enjoy the basics in life: food, sleep, love and the security of a routine. Practicality is another of your virtues.

THE CHART RULER

The ruler of the sign on the ascendant is the "chart ruler." It is a key planet in the horoscope because the ascendant is the most personal point in the chart. Its sign, house placement and the aspects it makes to other planets explain how you express YOU. (Refer to chapters: Planets in Houses, Planets in Signs and Aspects.)

CHART RULER: VENUS

You express love and beauty, and appreciate those qualities in others. You create an atmosphere of charm and sociability wherever you go. You enjoy the pleasures of life, from food to fine art.

ROVING DELEGATES

The signs on the house cusps are the principles to be learned; the cusp on which a sign falls tells us the area of life in which that particular principle will manifest. The planetary ruler, or "roving delegate" of that sign, acts as a messenger, bringing the energy from the house it rules to the house in which it is placed. For example, if Aries is on the 3rd cusp and Mars is in the 10th, the ruler of the 3rd is in the 10th. The energy flows from the 3rd to the 10th, linking the two. The same principle applies if Taurus is on the 3rd and Venus is in the 10th, or Cancer is on the 3rd and the Moon is in the 10th.

Ruler of 1st house in 11th:

You are a friend to all, and a true humanitarian. You believe in the welfare of the whole, and if the group is happy, you are happy.

Ruler of 2nd house in 10th:

You put your resources to work in your career and will spend money on your public image in order to move upward.

Ruler of 3rd house in 11th:

You think in terms of being a friend and what is best for the whole. You think of your friends and express your ideas with them. Your ideas can influence the group as a whole.

Ruler of 4th house in 11th:

Your need for emotional security is fulfilled by being a friend. You are nurturing of your friends and the groups to which you belong.

Ruler of 5th house in 9th:

You love to travel, to learn and expand your concepts, to explore the far horizon, to meet people of all cultures. Your philosophy involves being creative and having fun. You put your creative energies into action on a large scale.

Ruler of 6th house in 11th:

Your work involves being a friend to others. You willingly serve any group of which you are a part. You do what needs to be done to help the whole.

Ruler of 7th house in 3rd:

You think in terms of others, particularly your partner. You get ideas from listening to other people. You know what the world is thinking and can therefore speak its language.

Ruler of 8th house in 12th:

You have a greater sense of power than you know. You can bring about changes behind-the-scenes of which people are unaware, simply by asking God to bring the changes about.

Ruler of 9th house in 8th:

Your ability to see to the heart of things is strong. With increased vision your philosophy of life can undergo constant transformation. As a result, you believe in finding the cause rather than accepting the effects. You can share this with others by helping them get clear on their values and helping them develop their resources.

Ruler of 10th house in 8th:

Your attitude toward authority figures in general and your own authority in particular can undergo a transformation. As a result, your career can undergo a total change. You have the ability to assist others to get clear on their values, priorities and financial responsibilities through your career.

Ruler of 11th house in 12th:

Your friends support your desire for solitude and privacy. You are a behind-the-scenes friend.

Ruler of 12th house in 2nd:

Your subconscious desire to serve influences your values and priorities, and can be reflected in the way in which you earn your money.

A FINAL WORD

When you believe you are intelligent, you act intelligently. When you believe you are loving, you act lovingly and attract love. When you believe you are limitless, you act limitlessly and attract success. Why not accept the truth--that you were born to be happy, to succeed and to live life abundantly? By putting your attention on the most positive manifestation of your chart you create love, joy and peace in your life. It's your life---live it!
