REVELATION: THE NEW ASTROLOGY

INTRODUCTION

"I can't help it. I'm an Aries. Of COURSE I have a temper." "The Moon was in Taurus. It triggered my sweet tooth. I HAD to have dessert." "Mars squared my ascendant, so of COURSE I got angry."

We've all made statements like these and, in essence, blamed the planets for our actions and the events in our lives. We look to the stars for guidance, praise them when we do well, and blame them when things don't go the way we'd like. Don't the stars affect our lives? Don't they influence us? The stars do not MAKE us do anything any more than seeing a great pair of shoes in a store window MAKES you run in and buy them, or passing a restaurant when you are hungry MAKES you rush inside and grab a meal. There is a synchronicity to the universe that puts you intuitively in tune with the world around you. Subconsciously, you give and receive messages that guide and direct you to your spoken or unspoken goal, thus creating those events and circumstances that fulfill your desires. You, then, are the Creator of your life. You created being at the restaurant when you were hungry so that you could eat. YOU were the cause, not the restaurant. Similarly, you created being in front of the store window in order to see the shoes. YOU were the Creator, not the shoes.

In the winter, the leaves fall from the trees. At the same time, we put on heavier clothing. The falling leaves do not MAKE us put on heavier clothing; the cold weather does. We and the trees are responding to the same cause---the change of seasons. As part of God's plan, we, and all of nature, are responding to the larger order of things. So, too, in astrology, the planets reflect what is occurring in our personal worlds and the lessons we are learning. They are not the lessons themselves, but the reflections thereof.

REVELATION: THE NEW ASTROLOGY is the implementation of the knowledge that you are the Creator of your life. As such, you are free to interpret each planet in your chart on its highest and best level, thereby being the highest and best manifestation of God you can be. YOU determine the level of functioning of your chart and the degree of happiness and success in your life. When you function on this level, your life takes on a richness of dimension it has not had before. You take the responsibility for creating your life the way you would like it to be.

You see the planets as those gifts and talents you have chosen to express in this lifetime. You fulfill your limitless potential because you see what CAN be, rather than what cannot. The chart then becomes a guide, rather than the source of your happiness or unhappiness. It becomes a reflection of your own spiritual evolution.

REVELATION: THE NEW ASTROLOGY is designed to assist you in that evolution. It is about love and appreciation of the God within, the acknowledgment of the Truth of who you are and, as a result, the beautiful expression of that Truth.

When you express the Truth of who you are by being your highest and best, you lift those around you and inspire THEM to be THEIR highest and best. They, in turn, inspire others, and so the Light is awakened in one person after another, spreading love, joy and peace across the face of the earth.

CHART RULER: JUPITER

You express generosity, optimism and freedom. You live your principles, the greatest of which is Truth.

ROVING DELEGATES

The signs on the house cusps are the principles to be learned; the cusp on which a sign falls tells us the area of life in which that particular principle will manifest. The planetary ruler, or "roving delegate" of that sign, acts as a messenger, bringing the energy from the house it rules to the house in which it is placed. For example, if Aries is on the 3rd cusp and Mars is in the 10th, the ruler of the 3rd is in the 10th. The energy flows from the 3rd to the 10th, linking the two. The same principle applies if Taurus is on the 3rd and Venus is in the 10th, or Cancer is on the 3rd and the Moon is in the 10th.

Ruler of 1st house in 9th:

You identify with Truth and must live according to your principles. You see the big picture and understand human nature. This gives you a philosophical approach to life.

Ruler of 2nd house in 4th:

You share your resources and values with your family, thus providing financial as well as emotional security for them.

Ruler of 3rd house in 1st:

You think about yourself and are able to express your personal views easily.

Ruler of 4th house in 7th:

Your nurturing needs are fulfilled by giving to others. Rather than looking to a spouse or partner for emotional security, you empower the other person by bringing your security to the relationship.

Ruler of 5th house in 8th:

Your ability to enjoy life influences the values of those around you, enabling them to re-vamp their priorities and get clear on what is important to them. Your passions are very strong and you feel deeply about anything you undertake. You love to discover the cause rather than deal with the effects of a situation. Mundanely, your creative talents can be profitable in joint financial ventures.

Ruler of 6th house in 8th:

Through your work you help other people develop their own natural resources, whether material, emotional or physical. You assist them to get clear on their values and, in so doing, you can transform your own work. You love to be involved in work that deals with underlying cause rather than effect.

Ruler of 7th house in 9th:

The world in general and your partner in particular encourage you to learn, see the big picture, and expand your horizons. You believe in partnership, sharing and equality.

Ruler of 8th house in 5th:

Your creative energies are powerful. You throw yourself passionately into your creative projects and lose yourself in the fun of the moment.

Ruler of 9th house in 8th:

Your ability to see to the heart of things is strong. With increased vision your philosophy of life can undergo constant transformation. As a result, you believe in finding the cause rather than accepting the effects. You can share this with others by helping them get clear on their values and helping them develop their resources.

Ruler of 10th house in 9th:

The authority figures in your life taught you your principles, one of the greatest of which is respect for authority and responsibility. Your career involves living according to your principles and, possibly, teaching them by example.

Ruler of 11th house in 8th:

Your hopes and wishes can undergo a total change, giving you the desire to get to the heart of things. You feel you are being a friend when you assist someone to get clear on their values and priorities.

Ruler of 12th house in 7th:

You want to serve others, whether the world in general or your partner in particular, and willingly sacrifice for the joy of giving.

A FINAL WORD

When you believe you are intelligent, you act intelligently. When you believe you are loving, you act lovingly and attract love. When you believe you are limitless, you act limitlessly and attract success. Why not accept the truth--that you were born to be happy, to succeed and to live life abundantly? By putting your attention on the most positive manifestation of your chart you create love, joy and peace in your life. It's your life---live it!
