Introduction

Introduction, Personal Security Report:

The purpose of this report is to provide you with information which you can use to help protect yourself (or your child) from crime, based on your astrological chart.

The most important thing to remember always is that it is YOU -YOUR consciousness and YOUR willpower which are your best protection against crime. The value of this report is to provide you with information which will help YOU, as an empowered, responsible, and creative individual to make the most effective decisions for yourself. This report is a resource for you to use; it is supportive of your own ability to make your own, best choices.

In fact, crimes occur only when individuals are out of touch with their inner strengths. If they are not in tune with themselves, they may not realize that they are not protecting themselves. They may be in a state of mind where they have lost sight of the knowledge that they CAN control their own destiny.

However, by being aware of the specific pitfalls to which you might be susceptible as an individual, you can concentrate your energies on protecting yourself in those areas first. Then you will have increased your level of safety and freed yourself to work on unfolding your inner potential in other ways.

By transforming your fear of crime into an experience of your own empowerment, you will be confronting some of your deepest fears and healing them on a permanent, deep, karmic level. The benefits, therefore, will go far beyond crime prevention in allowing you to advance along the spiritual path.

When persons are trapped in the cycle of karma, they can mistakenly believe that they must endure hurt or punishment. They create the hurt and punishment by thinking these negative thoughts. They attract negativity from other people, even to the extreme of attracting victimhood by crime. The answer is to become aware of what thoughts you are thinking on the unconscious level and to replace these thoughts with positive ones. Then, you will attract security, happiness, and self-confidence into your life.

Your natal astrological chart reveals where you may be thinking negative thoughts. It also suggests what you can do, given your unique personality, to divert these same energies into positive outlets. The essence of this report, then, is to show you what these energies are and how to work with them positively. In addition, this report elaborates on your many positive talents and strengths, which are additional resources which you can use both to protect yourself from crime and to go beyond that in healing yourself and the planet.

In the entire range of features in your chart, there are likely to be some energies which could lead to a vulnerability to crime more than others if they are not handled wisely. Any such aspects, which indicate a particular need for conscious work on your part in order to minimize any risk of crime, are indicated by a # at the beginning of the first paragraph of the interpretation. Do not worry if you have some #'s. They do not mean that any crime will necessarily happen to you; they just mean that, if you want to do some conscious work to make sure that you are protecting yourself, then these are the most important places to start. In fact, the ones marked # are usually the ones where you can develop the strongest POSITIVE abilities, if you go to the conscious effort of ensuring that these same energies are directed positively rather than negatively.

In addition, you may have some special gifts indicated in your chart. These are special abilities which you were already born with and to which you already have easy access. These are special talents which you can use to deal with the ones marked # in your own chart and which you can also use to go beyond that to solve the crime problem in your community and in society as a whole. Your outstanding talents in this regard are marked with a ! at the beginning of the first paragraph of the interpretation. You will find that you feel more fulfilled and that your energy flows better if you use any such talents for the positive purposes for which they were intended. Any marked ! would be your starting point if you decide to go beyond protecting yourself from crime to helping others.

Please note that no claim is made or implied that this report will guarantee that you will be safe from crime, because what really counts is how you use the knowledge gained from the report. Also, you may have had past karma prior to reading the report which would take special work to neutralize, in order for all risk of crime to be removed.

Note: This Report is a serious report, rather than being on the level of entertainment. It addresses the serious problem of crime and how to overcome it. If you have ever been a victim of a crime, or know someone who has, or if you live in an area where crime is an issue, it is designed to help you. If you are fortunate enough not to have been touched by crime, it will give you insight into the problem and show you how you can, if you choose, from your fortunate position, improve the world for others, by putting your higher compassion to good use.

Chapter 1: The Ascendant

Ascendant, Introduction:

The Ascendant indicates how we present ourselves to the world. Even if we are a certain way inside, we may not realize that we are projecting a different impression outwardly. By knowing how we first appear to others, we can be safer and better able to defend ourselves and avoid situations with which we do not identify.

If we project positively, this comes back to us. If we project negatively, this comes back to us too.

The Ascendant is also important as a focal point for other energy in the chart and for the energy which comes back to us.

Sagittarius Rising:

As you like to travel to distant places, make sure that you learn something about what criminal activity to avoid in each place before you go there.

Your thoughts are on a very high plane, especially if you foster spiritual awareness, so you are able to transcend the problem of crime by being far above the realm where it exists. You are very easily able to use positive affirmations to dispel negative possibilities. Also, as you are generous and spread goodwill to many people, it would be very rare for anyone to be unkind to you. Even if they were, the many others whom you have assisted would readily be willing to come to your aid.

You are likely to choose a positive living environment, away from most crime and your work will also likely be in some "lofty" place, where crime will be rare.

You need to learn the lesson that the real truth lies within and not halfway around the world. Closer to home with your own spiritual thoughts, you will be safer from unknown criminal elements.

You seek honesty and, therefore, avoid anyone who is dishonest or deceptive.

You would be excellent at teaching others to have faith and to overcome the problem of crime through positive thoughts and divine inspiration.

Chapter 2: The Sun

Sun, Introduction:

The Sun rules the expression of basic energy potential and creative drive to grow and develop as an individual. It rules the dynamic expression of the will.

If the energy of the Sun is blocked or distorted, the negative manifestations which may occur are crimes resulting from the compulsion or will to do something; crimes as part of a lifestyle; crimes involving the life of someone; crimes resulting from a weak ego or the ability to be influenced; and crimes resulting from a threatened ego or from too much egotism.

To protect yourself from crimes involving the energy of the Sun, you need to affirm the strength of your own willpower. If you do this, whatever happens, you will still be fully aware at the deeper levels of your personality that you are a valuable, creative individual, in control of your own destiny. Affirm, too, that your inner will comes into manifestation from the infinite source, so that your ego will be guided by the spiritual direction. In that way, you will not be attached to your ego, but will see it as a connection to something even greater. Your ego is the means of bringing the inspiration of this greater power into your daily life.

Sun in Virgo:

If you have worked on preventative health care, as you likely have, you will be able to transfer many of the same principles to crime prevention. For example, if you eat a good diet and exercise regularly, you will also know that prevention is the best way to deal with crime. You are likely to read up on the subject by collecting all the police pamphlets, committing the suggestions to memory, and putting them into practice.

Your residence is not likely to look like a target for thieves, because it will be modest (so as not to look lavish) but neat (so as not to look careless).

If you do witness a crime, you will likely, with your good memory for details, be able to give a coherent description, complete with the license plate number of the suspect's car.

You believe that it is important to do the right and proper thing and to be honest, so you will be a good influence on those around you, to keep them from any involvement in crime.

You are good with figures and an accurate bookkeeper so no one can put one over on you when it comes to fraud.

As you lead a quiet lifestyle, you will not likely get drunk or go to places where rowdy activity occurs. Make sure that the predictability of your routine does not make you vulnerable prey to the less scrupulous. For example, if you come home from work at the same time every night, you might want to take such precautions as a self-defense course and a security system for your home, as an observer would know when you will not be at home.

Sun in the 8th House

You are interested in deep mysteries but make sure that your curiosity does not lead you into dangerous territory.

You may play a rather dominant role in dealing with other people. Make sure that you avoid any unreasonable, overly aggressive people if you are handling a will, insurance claim or other business dealing.

You are dynamic and intense in your interest in sex, so make sure that the persons with whom you become associated are capable of handling this and that they do not get into any jealous or vengeful activity.

Your courage may take you into life or death situations. This may be necessary if you are fighting for your country but stay away from organized criminals or gangs or persons involved in criminal plots, as this could be very dangerous.

Focus your energy on regenerative healing or recycling or finding ways to prevent deaths. These would be constructive outlets for your courage, resourcefulness and creativity.

Sun Trine Saturn:

(!) You find it easy to use your willpower and self-discipline to achieve your goals. You have energy and drive to develop as an individual and you are able to go through the necessary practical steps required. You are not likely to appear to criminals to be an easy target because you are self-confident and organized.

You would do well in a position of leadership or authority in a police or military operation, because you would inspire others with your willingness to do your share of the actual work and still to stay on top of it with a positive attitude and flare for inspiring others to follow your lead.

Sun Sextile Pluto:

(!) You are extremely self-expressive. In fact, if you assert your own ego and willpower, you are likely to have a far-reaching effect, for better or for worse. However, likely it will be for the better, because you will tend to tune in to the strong universal will which is the proper guide for your strong energies. You are receptive to this guidance because you have fortunate experiences when you use your powerful energy in the higher, spiritual way.

You would be able to use your strong capabilities to be a role-model for those who are less able to channel their intense, forceful energy in the positive direction. You are meant to do something very important like this, not just to take for granted that things seem to come easily to you. Things will only be easy as long as you keep up the good work. Therefore, prepare yourself to be a good role-model by first mastering your own energies. You might do this through the martial arts, in which you would likely excel. Kundalini Yoga might also be useful.

You protect yourself from crime by channeling your energy upwards to the higher plane, far above the unaware state in which force and ego are misused.

If this is a child's chart, start the child at a young age in some type of program to develop his or her full potential, such as the martial arts or yoga.

Chapter 3: The Moon

Moon, Introduction:

The Moon, in its usual meaning, rules immediate emotional responses, attitudes instilled from family or childhood, your likely reaction to external influences and the actions of others, home life, your relationships with your mother and with women in general, and your manner of responding to the public at large.

If the energy of the Moon is blocked or distorted, its negative manifestations can occur. That would include crimes involving the role of mother, wife, or live-in girlfriend; emotionally-based crimes; crimes resulting from a disrupted childhood; crimes involving sentimental items; and crimes resulting from immediate feelings or fears. In fact, quite often it is the transiting Moon which triggers a natal planet when a crime occurs. (Mars is the other frequent trigger).

To protect yourself from crimes associated with Moon energy, work at cultivating domestic peace or else move into a more nurturing home environment; work through any childhood traumas you may have had; be in tune with your emotions; protect any sentimental items you may possess; and learn to think logically, rather than get caught up in the emotions of others. As long as you nurture yourself and act as if you value your home, you will dispel the kind of energy which would work against your home security.

Here is how the energy of the Moon works in your own chart:

Moon in Taurus:

Make realistic preparations for your financial security, as you need this in order to be happy. Realize that real security comes from within, so that regardless of your outer circumstances, you will have good self-esteem. Practice affirmations for self-worth.

As you may have an interest in collecting valuable jewelry and works of art, make sure that you take all of the precautions against theft.

Do not rush into financial dealings impulsively, but rather check out the long-term possibilities thoroughly first. In this way, you will be protected from shrewd opportunists.

You may like to relax by creating beautiful gardens around your home. You may also be a good painter, sculptor or musician. These interests put out a peaceful vibration which offsets crime by making others feel at peace too.

You may not have had a great deal of wealth when you were young and you seek to make up for this now through your hard work. Make sure that others do not take advantage of any insecure feelings you may have from when you were young. Also, if you do acquire wealth as you get older, remember that you have earned it and that others should not be jealous or possessive or try to get it from you.

Moon in the 5th House

Be especially wary of anyone who might try to convince you to invest your life savings in any risky financial scheme. Make sure also that your older relatives are cautioned against fraud artists, who may try to prey on senior citizens by convincing them to give up their money.

If you have children, make sure that they are well-supervised while they are at the local playground or recreation center, so that they will not meet the wrong kind of people.

As you have creative, dramatic talent, you may be able to teach children about crime prevention by having them act in some local theatre production, on such subjects as how to say no to strangers or how to stay away from drugs.

Moon Trine Mars:

You have a talent for being able to nurture others. On the emotional level, you are concerned about the well-being of others, especially the members of your own family. You take this concern beyond the level of mere sentiment to the level of constructive, practical action in their best interests.

You would be aware of the truth of the saying, "The hand that rocks the cradle moves the world". You would be likely to promote the idea that the best way to have a peaceful society is for children to receive good motherly care when they are young.

You would also be able to reach those in society who might be turning to crime because they do not have enough food or shelter. You would be able to assure them that they are loved and cared about and this would help them to turn their lives around.

In addition, you would work well with aggressive children. You would understand that, underneath their naughtiness, is an insecurity which makes them think that they need to defend themselves by attacking others.

Moon Trine Uranus:

You are especially talented at doing community work which nurtures others. For example, you could promote high ideals as to how children should be raised and the children would then learn higher values than turning to crime when they get older.

You could work on projects which have a group purpose of looking after those in need of care, such as the homeless, the hungry, or the elderly. You would need to have the freedom to work on these projects in your own, unique way and you would be very effective at doing a great deal of good. You would also benefit yourself because of the fulfillment you would experience at having helped to create a safer, better community.

Moon Sextile Neptune:

You have great potential as a psychic healer. Not only would this type of work bring you good karma rather than any kind of criminal victimization; it would also free up your own energies and be good for your soul.

Your talent is unusual and should be developed. You would be able to direct nurturing energy to those who have either been victims of crime or who are committing crimes because they felt unnurtured at some time earlier in their development. You would naturally have a handle on understanding past lives and prenatal experiences and how healing can occur if nurturing energy is applied.

You would enjoy and be good at Reiki, the Metamorphic Technique, of any kind of gentle, caring therapy. The world needs you to undertake something of this nature.

Chapter 4: Mercury

Mercury, Introduction:

Mercury rules both Gemini and Virgo. Gemini pertains to the communication of thoughts and information, whereas Virgo has to do with the organization and analysis of facts. Both are mental signs and are usually above the lower realm in which crimes tend to occur.

If the energy of Mercury is blocked or distorted, there are some negative manifestations of its energy which can take place. One of the Gemini ones is smooth talking. Another is clouded thinking. Crimes involving secret communications or interference with communication would also have a Mercury component. As for Virgo, Virgo has to do with analysis and logic and can, therefore, indicate the pushing of rules. Virgo is related to small details and can be a factor in petty theft. The work connotation of Virgo can come out in crimes in the workplace. White-collar crimes can have a Mercury component.

To protect yourself from crimes in which Mercury energy is a factor, develop your mind so that you will be able to outsmart the offender. Use your mental ability, so that you will not be unconsciously leaving it up to the less scrupulous to remind you of the potential of mental faculties. Have your information organized and communicate it well, to leave less room for crime to occur.

Mercury in Virgo:

You are very detailed and careful about crime prevention. Just as you would think that preventive health care makes more sense than getting ill, you would see the value of preventing crimes before they happen.

You are likely to have read pamphlets about crime prevention and to have amassed considerable knowledge about it. You also put these suggestions to practical use.

You are an exact and accurate bookkeeper and, therefore, would be able to detect any fraud readily.

You work hard for what you own and you protect your house and your possessions prudently and cautiously.

You would have good ability to work with crime statistics, as you are accurate and analytical. In fact, you may have very specialized knowledge in this field.

You are dependable in an emergency or in any crime situation, as you would not let your emotions cloud your thinking. Instead, you would be thinking of the best and most practical thing to do to help, in the same way that a nurse or a person trained in first aid is able to be detached and get the necessary work done. For example, you would be busy noting the suspect's license plate number and precise details of the person's description.

Mercury in the 9th House

You are interested in higher education and are, therefore, likely to be sheltered from the criminal element.

You like to study other cultures and religions and this activity would usually be safe for you to do. However, if you travel to far away places in your search for truth about other ways of life, you would need to be knowledgeable ahead of time as to any pitfalls or dangers in a particular country. Your previous studies of the country from books you have read would probably give you a good idea of what to expect. However, remember that most books are written by academics and not by those who are necessarily practical about grim realities. Therefore, be cautious if you are going off the beaten path.

You need, in general, to be wary of big talkers and to look at the true facts. As long as you are sincere and dedicated in your search for truth, you should not encounter any difficulties.

Mercury Square Pluto:

It is a challenge for you to communicate in a way which will receive mass acceptance. You can find the right words if you work hard at it and then be very successful, but it does take the effort. Sometimes you say things which you do not mean or which others take the wrong way and then you need to guard against their reaction, which you may find surprisingly powerful.

For example, it is not worth getting into a feud with relatives or neighbors over a slight argument or misunderstanding.

You would do well to enroll in a public speaking course or writing course to become more aware of the impact which your words have on others.

In the workplace, you may feel that others are ganging up on you unless you take steps to create good communication and harmony with them. You can achieve a favorable work environment if you try.

Chapter 5: Venus

Venus, Introduction:

Venus rules both Libra and Taurus. It rules social, romantic and artistic expression, social relationships and close friendships. Venus, being the traditional goddess of love, is the opposite polarity to Mars, the god of war. The energy of Venus, when properly used, can offset the aggression of Mars and thereby neutralize the tendency towards many crimes. Venus can make peace and build bridges of understanding.

However, when the energy of Venus gets distorted or is not allowed its proper expression, it can result in crimes associated with too much passivity or not enough aggression, such as robbery, attacks on females or vulnerable males, sexual assault, and crimes involving girlfriends. What happens in these crimes is that, when there is a build-up of unexpressed Venus energy in the victim, it attracts the opposite polarity to itself. These crimes occur when there is also a build-up of too much Mars energy (or sometimes Pluto or other energy) in the offender. The two polarities meet, often without the prior conscious awareness by either victim or offender that their energy is out of balance. You can avoid crimes associated with your Venus energy by making sure that it has enough legitimate outlets, such as art, loving relationships and good friendships.

Venus in Leo:

You are very warm-hearted and kind and would never mean any harm to anyone. Therefore, you are likely to attract kindness from others, not criminal activity.

You are artistic and would do well to seek an emotional outlet in this field. Your art would be dramatic and would attract attention. You need attention to feel secure, and when you are secure, you are not going to be victimized by anyone else. If you do not get the attention you need, it is then that you might even feel driven to be the victim of something, so that you can get attention. The solution to all this is to realize that you are ultimately the person responsible for giving yourself attention. If you are so kind to others or so caught up in getting their approval that you forget about your own needs, then you go around with needs which must be fulfilled. Take the time for self-expression and for tuning in to whom you are and how you really feel.

You are kind to children and will be a very positive influence on them, provided that you attend to your own emotional needs first. Make sure that you are secure within yourself and then you will be able to provide genuine security and artistic guidance for children.

Venus in the 8th House

You have a strong sex drive and emotions, which you need to keep under control in order to maintain peaceful, harmonious relationships with members of the opposite sex. Avoid getting into situations where one person is trying to get even with the other.

You are likely to gain financially through inheritances and partnerships. However, avoid any bitter struggles with others over money, as this would be very upsetting to you and possibly dangerous. Make sure that your money is kept safe, as you are likely to be shrewd and careful enough to do.

Although you may be romantically attracted to members of the criminal element, put your own safety first.

Venus Square Saturn:

You need to work hard at your relationships, and if you do, you will likely have one, loving partner over the long-term. In the meantime, do not let any disappointments in relationships get you down, because then you would be more vulnerable to harsh treatment by others, especially those of the opposite sex. Also, do not let past relationship problems interfere with a present relationship or the present person might react negatively, wondering what s/he had done to deserve your harshness.

Take precautions to be careful of your money and possessions, so that you will not be vulnerable to theft. Remember that some of your possessions are valuable and cannot be replaced, so keep them where they will always be safe, without being stingy or hoarding, as this would block your flow of energy and actually make you more vulnerable, rather than less.

Venus Sextile Jupiter:

(!) You are likely to have rich friends and plenty of opportunities to invest money and to profit. Just remember that those who do not want to work for their money, or who do not understand that attracting profit involves earned goodwill, may think that they can get money illegitimately from someone such as yourself. Therefore, without becoming too worried about it, take reasonable precautions to protect yourself, your loved ones, and your money from crime.

Chapter 6: Mars

Mars, Introduction:

Usually when we think of a crime we think of an act of aggression such as fighting, stabbing, shooting, beating, blows, bludgeoning, or arson. These crimes are all ruled by Mars.

In general, the metaphysical way to avoid being a victim of any of these crimes is to make sure that you are channeling the aggressive side of your personality constructively. That is because if you turn this energy inwards, rather than outwards into some activity, you will be using it against yourself. If you turn aggression towards yourself, others may tend to direct THEIR aggressive energies towards you too, because they are seeking an outlet for their own aggression. On the other hand, if your own Mars energy is flowing and being used in a healthy way, then others who are in need of guidance will follow your example and channel their aggressive energy constructively too. If you think well of yourself, you will create positive experiences for yourself. If you think negatively of yourself, you will attract negativity.

Mars in Virgo:

You would be advised to take precautions against crime in the workplace. Fortunately, you possess good traits for doing this. For example, because you are so precise with figures, no one could get away with theft or fraud. Because you keep everything so neat and organized, if anything were stolen, it would be obvious right away. In addition, your honesty would inspire others to be honest too and your willingness to work hard yourself would make others respect you.

You might, however, possibly come into some conflict with other employees who are incapable of keeping up with your high standards of perfection and who resent your getting all the praise, even though you earn it. They may think that your idea of virtue is not their idea of virtue; for example, they may see your perfectionism as an imbalance and a threat to health.

You might also run into some difficulty if you work so hard that your nerves get bad. If you do this, you might not get along with other employees and you might become unreasonable in terms of how much you expect from them.

Rather than allow your exacting personality to annoy others, you would do well to acquire skill in some specialized field, which would be an outlet for your drive to be precise. Such fields would include the manufacture or repair of small items, statistical work or bookkeeping, the use of small tools, medical specialties such as surgery, or holistic healing with your hands.

Mars in the 8th House

You are emotionally intense and have strong desires. Therefore, you need to keep your feelings under control in order to avoid potential conflicts.

You are aggressive in joint finances. You also need to make sure that you are fair, so that your partner will not feel that he or she has to get revenge or get something back from you.

You have mystical interests and may be able to develop psychic ability in the direction of protecting yourself from crime. You would be interested in such strategies as psychic self-defense. You would also do well in the martial arts.

Chapter 7: Jupiter

Jupiter, Introduction:

In the positive sense, Jupiter rules religious and philosophical beliefs, higher education, expansiveness, large-scale generosity, financial and material benefits and earned goodwill. If this type of energy is not flowing or if it gets wrongly diverted, it can turn into crimes involving large amounts of money or reliance on luck, theft of large items, or indulgent behavior getting out of hand.

To avoid becoming a victim of a crime associated with Jupiter, employ your optimism, goodwill and positive thinking. Faith can overcome crime on an individual level and also on a large-scale level through one's church, educational teachings, or inspired projects. In order not to become a victim of a large financial scheme, you can employ positive thinking to believe that you deserve to have the money which you have and to remember that you extended goodwill towards others in order to earn it. It is when you do not believe in your own prosperity that you are at risk of losing it. However, if you are in a situation where you know deep down that you have not earned the money you have and that you really have been too self-indulgent to deserve it, then you would be better off voluntarily giving a large amount of your money to charity than to have it taken away from you through a crime.

Jupiter in Libra:

You are very popular and well-liked because of your generosity and sociability. You treat others in the way you would like to be treated and so they are likely to be kind to you, rather than want to commit any kind of crime against you. Even if there were someone who was jealous of your popularity, you would neutralize them through your kindness.

With your ability to spread goodwill, you would be good at raising funds or promoting some peaceful project. If there is a crime prevention group in your area, your work on behalf of it would be very effective.

You are knowledgeable about the law and could teach others about the philosophy of justice and the value of fairness and equality. You are interested in art and culture and would, therefore, associate in circles which are far removed from the mundane, criminal element.

You are likely to enjoy a happy marriage and to be far beyond any of the domestic disagreements which plague others. You regard marriage as a traditional, spiritual union between two people who are kind partners to one another.

Jupiter in the 9th House

You are philosophical and spiritual, with optimism and positive thoughts which are on such a high plane that crime does not exist for you. You could be a very inspiring lecturer, traveling far and wide to teach others that faith can transcend crime and that positive meditation can lead to only good thoughts and good behavior.

You are an excellent fund-raiser, because you spread goodwill and compassion to others. You would have enough funds to start a large-scale crime prevention project. You may even take this a step further to start a whole, new, positive ashram or spiritual study group, which would raise the vibration of the entire planet.

You are honest and attract honesty from others. Use your great fiery energy for the higher purpose for which it was intended. Avoid self-indulgence or any financial speculation which is not spiritually based. You have the willpower to do this.

Chapter 8: Saturn

Saturn, Introduction:

In its positive meaning, Saturn rules discipline, order and recognition, but if the demands of the disciplinarian become too harsh or if the pressure to seek recognition is too great, then Saturn can operate in a negative way.

The types of crimes associated with Saturn are those of a sadistic, cruel or brutal nature. As Saturn governs limitations and rules, it also plays a part in crimes of confinement, drug enforcement, and crimes against authority figures.

The way to avoid Saturnine crimes is to enhance the positive qualities of Saturn within yourself. That is, accept that there have to be certain rules for society to work; attend to your career responsibilities, and carry out your duties as an authority fairly. Do not wear yourself down with too many rules; do not become a work addict; and do not be authoritarian. In short, take the responsibility for your own conduct and your own karma, so that others will not be inclined to fill that gap for you.

Saturn in Taurus:

You are likely to work very hard and to accumulate considerable wealth over a long period of time. You would be wise to protect what you have earned with the same patience and endurance as it took to acquire it. In other words, make sure that your property is well protected by a good security system; it is worth the investment. Do not be ostentatious about your wealth, because if others know that you have something, they may be more inclined to steal it. Therefore, have your home looking neat and respectable and do not have it stand out in any way from other houses on the street; in that way, it will not be a likely target for thieves. A fence or hedge surrounding the property might also serve as a deterrent.

You like hard work but be sure to balance that with relaxation, so that you will not be driving yourself too hard, because it is if you are overworked that you would be more vulnerable to crime.

Saturn in the 4th House

You are careful about managing your home environment. You would be likely to install all of the locks, lighting and security system yourself and to do it with great care and precision. Your home would look modest rather than lavish, and would, therefore, not attract thieves. It would not stand out and would look neat and well-kept, so that any would-be thieves would conclude that you have probably taken the time to install a security system. You would also be good at making your living by installing home security equipment for others.

You tend to impose rules and to be dominant in the home but that is because you are sincerely concerned about the well-being of your family. Your children may rebel against the amount of discipline, so make sure that your rules are fair and that you give them ample opportunity to express their own opinions and feelings.

Chapter 9: Uranus

Uranus, Introduction:

On the positive side, Uranus rules freedom, individuality, original ideas, the link with the Universal Mind, friends and group purpose. However, if Uranian energy is blocked or distorted, its negative manifestations may result. These can include rebellion, crimes involving more than one victim or offender, crimes assisted by a friend or group, unexpected or unusual crimes, and crimes involving several of something, such as several shots or wounds.

In order to avoid becoming the victim of a crime influenced by Uranus, you need to make sure that your needs related to Uranian energy are being expressed. For example, if you need the freedom to be an individual and authorities are imposing too many rules on you, you may attract rebellious behavior from others who actually think they are providing you with what you need; they will regard their actions as part of a "cause". Therefore, you need to get yourself out of the situation where the rules are being imposed, for your own good. You may also need to seek out a group of friends who share your ideals, so that you will be less vulnerable. It may be that you need to see a universal purpose in the work which you are doing, because if you are bored with your activity, then you will unconsciously attract negative, sudden events, as a distraction.

Uranus in Capricorn:

You are likely to undertake a very unusual career. You are interested in reforms of government and business. For example, you might get involved in politics to streamline the methods by which crimes are prevented. You would see the value of community policing. You would also be able to help businesses to prevent crime, either by using electronic devices or by undertaking more humane treatment of their employees. You are able to put very idealistic concepts into practice. You would have a vision of how crime could be prevented and then you would work hard to carry it out.

Uranus in the 1st House

You are unconventional and need excitement. Therefore, your movements would be unpredictable to potential criminals. However, you might tend to get involved with unusual people and you need to be cautious in making sure that they are trustworthy.

You would like to be the leader of a reformist organization and you would tend to rush right into uncharted territory. This might be potentially risky, because those who like things the way they are might oppose a reformist, especially one who tends to be aggressive. Therefore, get a sense of the public pulse before you go ahead with something radical.

You would be inventive about new methods of policing and may be good at promoting the use of astrology in police work.

Uranus Opposition Neptune:

You need to find a balance between group causes and time to meditate by yourself. Perhaps you could solve this by joining a group of meditators or a group of people who like to go for quiet walks through parks. If you were to get too caught up in a group activity, you would begin to feel as if there were too many people around and you would want to escape. This could lead to a feeling of escapism or victimization which in turn could make you more vulnerable to crime if it went on too long. On the other hand, if you meditated alone for too long, you would feel too isolated from the group and be more vulnerable to feeling helpless or victimized because of that. Therefore, it is important that you spend some time with others and some time alone, so that all of your needs can be met.

Chapter 10: Neptune

Neptune, Introduction:

Neptune, in its positive sense, rules imagination, intuition, the creative faculty and spiritual destiny. If this type of energy is blocked or distorted it can result in negative manifestations such as deception, theft, escape or disappearance. Neptunian energy can be distorted by alcohol or drugs or by unconscious self-deception.

The way to handle Neptunian energy, so as to avoid the crimes associated with it, is first to acknowledge your creative, emotional, intuitive side. Our society tends to value logic and rational thinking, but there is a whole other realm of potential ruled by the right side of the brain. Exercises which enhance creativity and psychic and spiritual awareness are very helpful here. If you acknowledge this side of your being rather than try to make it "disappear", you will not attract crimes of illusion, such as theft or being kidnapped.

Remember, too, that it is okay to be sensitive and that sensitive feelings do not need to be denied through alcohol or drugs. These substances, if used to escape from reality, hide rather than bring out your true self. Even if your sensitive feelings are painful or uncomfortable, it is better to acknowledge them and deal with them, so that the repression of them will not weaken you and make you vulnerable.

Neptune in Cancer:

You were born in a generation when people were emotionally sensitive, psychically tuned in, sympathetic and idealistic. It was not a time of crime or violence, although there was a risk of alcohol or drug addiction in some. How these trends influenced you as an individual would depend on the rest of your chart.

Neptune in the 7th House

You are sensitive to the feelings of others and unlikely to get into confrontations. You may feel a psychic link with your partner. If your partner is at any risk of danger, you could get help or send your partner light by psychic means.

You are loving and artistic and could uplift others from the level of consciousness where they would be likely to commit crimes. You may, however, tend to be naive or impractical about protecting yourself from those who are not as idealistic and peaceful as you are.

Chapter 11: Pluto

Pluto, Introduction:

The kind of aggression associated with Pluto is that of revenge, jealousy, long-standing anger or resentment. While Mars aggression is a quick flare-up which just as quickly dissipates, Pluto aggression is likely to be premeditated, extremely shocking, or very forceful. Pluto is associated with such crimes as homicide, extreme violence, extreme sexual attacks, and gang attack.

The important thing to understand about Pluto energy is that it CAN be just as positive as it can be negative. If the same intensity of energy were taken from these extreme crimes and directed towards a positive end, the results would be just as extremely beneficial as the criminal alternative would be destructive. Pluto energy, however, is never moderate, so if you have strong Pluto influences in your chart, be sure to maintain conscious control over them, so that the intensely GOOD results will follow. Your Pluto energy gives you a wonderful opportunity to transform yourself and others for the better. It can solve problems for the masses. Use this energy as it was intended, because if you bottle it up inside and the pressure builds up and eats away at you, you can imagine what kind of treatment you might unconsciously attract from others.

Pluto in Gemini:

You were born in a generation when there were revolutionary intellectual and scientific achievements, including mass communications. How Pluto affected you as an individual member of that generation depends on the house and aspects of Pluto in your own natal chart.

Pluto in the 7th House

You have the potential to influence intense legal changes. If there is a law which you think should be changed in order to have less crime, study the facts of the situation and then present your case. Gain mass support for your ideas through the media. Make sure, of course, that you are well informed and correct in your ideas first, because your karma can be either intensely good or intensely bad, depending on the type of energy you are giving to others. Especially if your ideas involve life-or-death issues such as the death penalty or abortion, listen to both sides thoroughly first before forming your own conclusions.

You are able to transform deeply and be transformed by your partner. Make sure, therefore, that you choose as a partner someone who can change you for the better or upon whom you know you can have a favorable influence. Make sure also that your partner is someone who can deal creatively with intensity, so that he or she will not feel overwhelmed by you and react in any desperate negative way.
